2014 Future Proofing: Political

The impact of Policy Decisions: the case for evidence based policy making

Tuesday 25 February 2014

The second event of our series will focus on the political environment and the impact to your own and your client's businesses and projects when policies are changed. How does business respond to the ever changing environment to meet their legislative requirements?

Join us to hear Travers provide an overview of policy decisions affecting Queensland's overall economic future, and Michael specifically addressing the challenges faced by the resource sector.

Speakers

Michael Roche, CEO, Queensland Resources Council

Mr Roche is an economist by profession and held senior management positions with the Australian Stock Exchange in Sydney before returning to Queensland in 2005.

His previous positions included Deputy Director-General of the Queensland Cabinet Office and Chief of Staff to the Queensland Treasurer.

Travers McLeod, Chief Executive Officer of Centre for Policy Development.

Travers has worked as a Policy Adviser for the Oxford Martin School at the University of Oxford. There he focused on Now for the Long Term, the report of the Oxford Martin Commission for Future Generations, chaired by Pascal Lamy, former Director-General of the World Trade Organisation. Travers has taught in Australia and the UK, including nearly two years as a Lecturer in Politics and International Relations at Merton College, Oxford. He has also worked as a lawyer and was an associate to Justice Michael Kirby in the High Court of Australia
